
Atlante electrifies MIND, the Milano Innovation District

Milan, 20 December 2023 – Atlante, the company of NHOA Group (NHOA.PA, formerly Engie EPS) dedicated to electric vehicles fast and ultra-fast charging network, announces today the partnership with Lendlease, for a first installation of 8 points of charge within the Milano Innovation District (“MIND”), former EXPO area, already completed and ready to offer to all MIND visitors and EV drivers in the area a superior charging experience near the A4 highway.

Covering an area of one million square meters, the Milano Innovation District is an urban area in Milan dedicated to innovation and research to foster collaboration between businesses, academic institutions, and start-ups in the innovation sector, such as sustainable energy, smart mobility, and digital technologies. It aims to create a dynamic and truly stimulating ecosystem that promotes the development of innovative solutions and the transformation of ideas into reality with a sustainable footprint, while hosting public excellences such as the Human Technopole, IRCCS Ospedale Galeazzi – Sant’Ambrogio, Fondazione Triulza and the Science Campus of the University of Milan.

Lendlease, the Australian-based global property and infrastructure company, with more than six decades of experience has an impressive track record of helping to deliver some of the most iconic global projects, such as the Sydney Opera House, London’s Olympic Village, and New York’s 9/11 Memorial and Museum.

The partnership between Atlante and Lendlease for the Milano Innovation District features the installation of 8 charging points in a temporary location within the former EXPO area, located in the northern side of Milan, in the proximity of the A4 highway, a fundamental route connecting Northern Italy.

“It is indeed a great pleasure to seal this partnership with Lendlease with the first 8 points of charge ready to welcome all EV drivers. Providing fastcharging solutions and infrastructure to the Milano Innovation District, a new district born with sustainability at the very heart of its mission, is important for Atlante. In Atlante we want to take sustainable mobility to the next level and working with partners sharing the same values is essential. Atlante and Lendlease also share their common view on innovation, both being guided by a pioneering approach that adds up to this amazing collaboration in the new Milano Innovation District”, stated Stefano Terranova, CEO of Atlante.

“Green mobility is a vital component for continuing urban growth and transforming our cities to be more efficient and sustainable. As MIND Milano Innovation District expands, we must respond to the new community’s needs and secure a rapid connection with its surroundings and Milan city center. Atlante’s charging point for electrified vehicles, installed in the MIND South Village, will allow us to provide Minders with a minimally polluting solution that will integrate the multimodal, low-emission transportation system in place, which includes trains, electric buses, and bikes - in line with our vision for greener cities in the future”, commented Francesco Mandruzzato, Investment Management Director at Lendlease.
